Living Legacy tells our story: that of Maori, Pakeha, and all cultures; women and men; children and youth; the institutional church and parishes; ordained and laity; social services and prophetic witness; church organisations and schools; and our response to society and the issues of the day.

It is a story that involves us as Christians in the very heart of 21st century Aotearoa New Zealand.

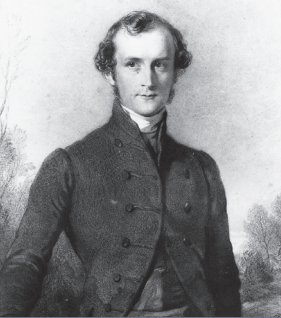

“It is time that our part of that greater story is properly researched and adequately told.”

– The Right Revd John Paterson,
Auckland Diocesan Synod, 2004
